The selection of basketball tent has many advantages:

First of all, it can avoid the complicated process of land approval. Our tent is a temporary building and can follow the process of temporary construction.

Secondly, the production period of the tent is short, and our tent can be completed in 7 days from production to installation, which greatly improves the construction period and allows the bosses to quickly return the cost;

Then our tent cost is low, the basketball tent frame is completed in the factory, greatly reducing the cost of labor, the later maintenance is also quite low, there will be no wall peeling phenomenon.

Our basketball tent has low requirements for the field, and can be transformed on the roof, the existing field, flat ground, grass, asphalt ground. The appearance of the tent is diverse, there are peach shape, arc, opposite sex, etc., can be tailored according to the needs of customers.
